Author of
Harbors & For Other Ghosts

Donald Edem Quist is author of the linked story collection, For Others Ghosts, and the essay collection, Harbors—Foreword's INDIES Bronze Winner and International Book Awards Finalist. His writing has appeared in AGNI, North American Review, The Rumpus, Cleaver, Vol. 1 Brooklyn, J Journal, and several other print and online publications. He's creator of the online micro essay series, PAST TEN, and co-host of the Poet in Bangkok podcast. He's received fellowships from Sundress Academy for the Arts and Kimbilio Fiction. He earned his MFA in Writing from Vermont College of Fine Arts and is currently a Gus T. Ridgel fellow in the English PhD program at University of Missouri.

Quist's moving, intertwined tales explore rebirth and trot the globe, from a crowded van in Ghana to a run-down Utah motel to a notoriously cursed Japanese forest.
